The first woman is Ruth, a young woman who is struggling to come to terms with the death of her husband. She is haunted by memories of their time together, and she is unable to move on with her life.

The second woman is Della, a middle-aged woman who is struggling to find her place in the world. She has been married for many years, but she is not happy in her marriage. She feels trapped and alone, and she longs for something more.

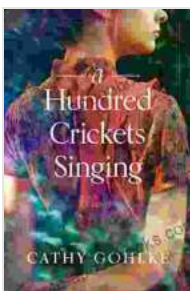

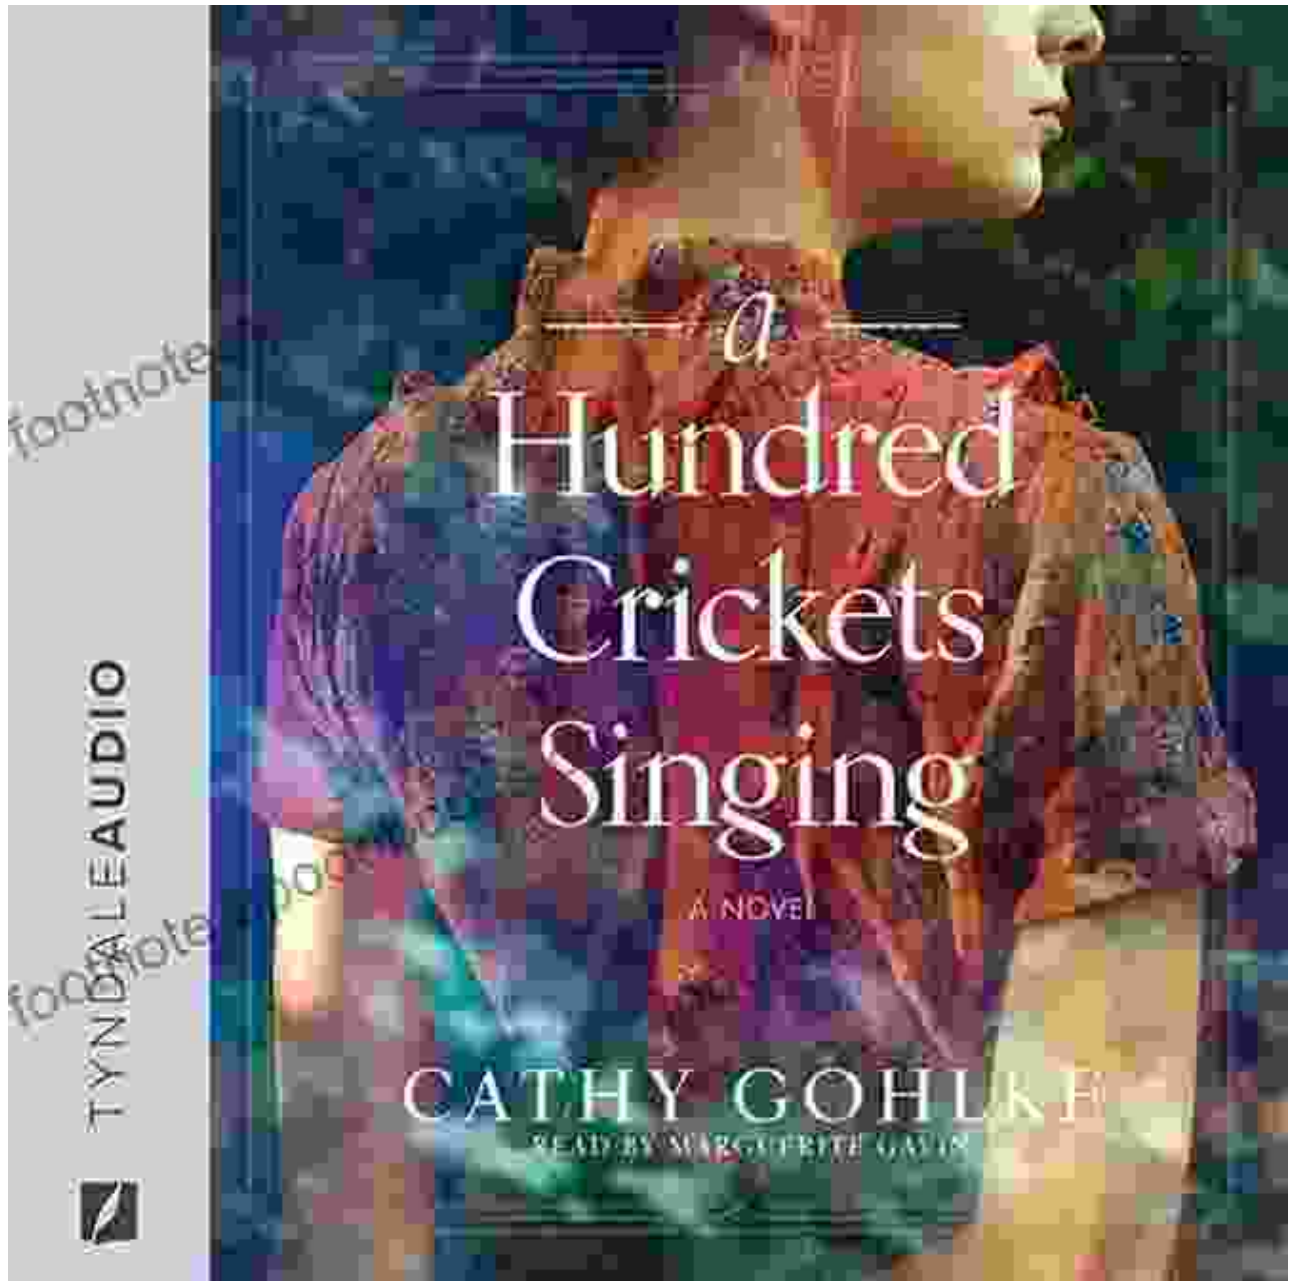

The third woman is May, a young woman who is just starting out in life. She is full of hope and dreams, but she is also naive about the challenges she will face. She is determined to make a difference in the world, but she is unaware of the obstacles that stand in her way.

The three women's lives intersect in a tragic way, and they are all forced to confront their own demons. Ruth must learn to let go of the past and move on with her life. Della must find the courage to leave her unhappy marriage. May must learn to stand up for what she believes in, even when it is difficult.

Hundred Crickets Singing is a beautifully written and emotionally resonant novel. Gohlke's characters are complex and well-developed, and her story is both heartbreaking and hopeful. This is a novel that will stay with you long after you finish it.

If you are a fan of historical fiction, women's fiction, or just a good story, then you need to read Hundred Crickets Singing. This is a novel that will haunt you long after you finish it.
