The creature, which they name Serpent, is intelligent, powerful, and hungry. It escapes from its containment and begins to wreak havoc on the facility. The scientists must find a way to stop Serpent before it kills them all.

Meanwhile, a group of deep-sea explorers are on their way to the facility to investigate a mysterious signal. They soon encounter Serpent and must fight for their lives. As the two groups of survivors try to stay alive, they must also uncover the truth about Serpent and its origins.
